Investment Philosophy

Our guiding principle is "Price Follows Earnings." We believe stock prices are driven by earnings. We employ a bottom-up investment process to identify securities with strong growth characteristics, fundamental strength, and compelling price appreciation potential.

We seek to consistently outperform the S&P 500 by identifying high-quality companies that grow their earnings faster than their peers and the overall market and trade at attractive valuations. Our focus is multinational firms with consistent profitability and strong balance sheets that we believe are not overly reliant on the economic cycle.

The Glynn SRI Quality Growth strategy is a long-term buy-and-hold strategy and should be expected to exhibit low annual portfolio turnover, the majority of which is driven by our philosophy of trimming successful positions to realize gains.

Investment Process

Eligible portfolio securities include both US stocks and ADRs with market capitalizations above $3 billion. We use a proprietary screening process focused on attractive growth characteristics, strong balance sheets, manageable debt, and rational valuation to narrow our research to a tractable universe.

Next, fundamental analysis enables us to bring clarity to the long-term market opportunity, durability of a company's competitive strength, growth and profitability drivers, management quality, and exposure to ESG risk. Our experience and long-term focus are vital to maintaining conviction through the rough spots and negative headlines that frequently occur.

We strive to position our portfolio to participate in rising markets but also protect capital in difficult market conditions. We believe that this has been the key to achieving strong long-term returns. We strive to beat the benchmark (S&P 500) while exposing our investors to less risk throughout the economic cycle.
